- Clients: Syncrude Canada, TrueNorth Energy, Imperial Oil, BlackRock Ventures and Shell Canada
- Location: Northeastern, Alberta

The HEG has worked with First Nation and Métis organizations throughout northern Alberta to carry out Traditional Land and Resource Use Assessments for proposed oil sands mine and in-situ developments.

These studies provide information related to Aboriginal rights, identify areas of concern that require special consideration during project planning and in some cases, site-specific mitigation strategies. HEG also tracks issues related to community health and safety, contracting and procurement, and community relations for the purpose of Project commitments or impact benefits discussions.
